Camp Campfire at the beginning of the year celebrating world peace day

University Rovers have been up to a lot in the past 6 months or so. We have now officially registered as a group and have completed our first round of investitures, including investing many of our international members! We are a sociable group, participating in meals out and socials, including successfully completing the Escape Room at. We participated in the Snow Moot between the 16-18th February and we were able to introduce our non-Canadian members to “proper” winter camping!

Our main goal of this semester is to focus on community service, which we began implementing just before Christmas. Some of our members helped with Santa Boxes, creating gifts filled with toys for children in need. Furthermore, we have been volunteering to help shovel a local resident’s driveway every time it has snowed this winter. But arguably our most crucial community project is in conjunction with Blood Services Canada to help promote their new blood donation clinic on Yonge and Bloor. We will be co-hosting a “challenge” to encourage 50 of our friends and family to give blood over two weekends, not only to help save lives, but to also start what we hope will be a big drive for people to become regular donors and encourage new sign-ups as that is what the clinic needs.

Investitures!

Out & About

Number 49

Palgrave Forest & Wildlife Area at Crossroads

The Palgrave trails are a side trail of the Oak Ridges Moraine Trail (ORTA) located off Highway 50 (south of Highway 9) north of Bolton, Ontario (north and west of Toronto). They are uniquely situated just east of the crossroads of the western terminus of the ORMT and the Bruce Trail as well as sections of the Caledon Rail Trail and of a portion of the Trans-Canada Trail nearby. Consult Map 1 of the ORMT when planning your journey.

It might have been because we hiked on March 18, the day after St. Patrick's Day and the Fairies hadn't quite hidden themselves away in the forest quite yet, as from time to time we came upon a number of homes in this enchanted forest. While none of the inhabitants were out and about, we had been hopeful that we just might be lucky enough to have a once in a life time meeting.

There are 13.4 kilometres of trails where hiking, mountain biking, cross country skiing, snowshoeing and horseback riding are permitted as well as bird watching and just maybe an occasional sighting of the wee folk. There are three parking lots available off regional road 50, Duffy's Lane and Finnerty Side Road. The trails are fairly flat and the hiking is easy to moderate.

While there was a little snow left over from the end of winter, the day was relatively warm and the hint of spring was in the air. Time to put away the skis and snowshoes and start hiking in earnest.

VERTICAL SKILLS CAMP

May 11 - 13, 2018 at Camp Opemikon

Camp Opemikon will be hosting a weekend Vertical Skills camp for 3rd year Scouts and Venturer Scouts participating with their Troop/Company. The aim of the weekend is to provide an opportunity for youth to gain knowledge leading to completion of competencies in the Vertical Outdoor Adventure Skill. Instructors will be on hand to provide the necessary guidance and ensure everything runs safely.

After instruction, the youth will be given opportunities to perfect and demonstrate that they have attained the competencies set out in the Vertical OAS. We expect to cover many of the skills required but will not sign off their being attained as that is the task of the Troop or Company. The list of the competencies we hope to cover is on page 2.

The outline for the weekend will be:

|--------------------|--|
| Friday evening | Safety briefing and knots instruction and practice. |
| Saturday morning | Belay technique and practice, equipment overview. |
| Saturday afternoon | Climbing at rock face or ropes course. |
| Saturday evening | Review knots, safety, equipment, etc. Use bouldering wall. |
| Sunday morning | Climbing at rock face or ropes course. |

All necessary equipment will be supplied, participants are free to bring harnesses and helmets but we reserve the right to not allow their use if they do not meet our standards on inspection.

Please ensure participants bring a pack for the hike, water bottles and dress appropriately for the weather. Participants should wear running or climbing shoes for the climbs and may want to bring boots for the hike over to the rock face.

In order to keep costs down, you get to choose where you want to stay and whether you want to be catered. If self-contained, plan a bag lunch or support people to prepare meals to save time.

Cost (includes instruction and equipment):

|--------------------------|-----------------|
| Tenting (Clements field) | $31 per person |
| Clements Lodge | $37 per person |
| Catering, additional | $36 per person |

Scouters not participating in the activity are not required to pay for accommodations, only for catering if they choose.

Limit of 20 participants, preference will be given to youth participants over Scouters (though we'll try to find time to let the scouters have some fun as well).

For information, contact Alex Gazaleh at scouteralex@gmail.com. Registration deadline is May 5. Please register at opebookings@scouts.ca – Subject Line Vertical Skills Camp using the Registration form.

SENIOR SECTIONS

LAZY CAMP 2018

1st of many (unless organizers are too lazy to make another)

Where: Camp Samac, Oshawa

When: June 15 -630pm drop off June 17 (1030am pick up (1pm for 1st prize)

Registration; $5. Email Keith McGinty Keith.m.186@gmail.com

I was talking with a few scouters and the conversation was “my youth are the laziest, they just play cards” then another scouter goes “yeah well mine only make meals that involve the least dishes”.

So I thought, we should put this to a test

Points to the laziest Vent / Rover group that attends (Yes, you must attend, none of this “oh I was too lazy to show up”)

1st Prize winners; To the group who wins 1st Prize for being the laziest group, I have arranged a special award at Samac on Sunday June 17 that will be from 1030am (camp end) till 1pm

2nd Prize winners; A secret prize that in itself is wonderful, but not as fun as 1st prize.

3rd Prize winners; You weren't quite lazy enough, there's always next year.

Now, I asked Robert and Colin from 7th Rovers to assist at the camp, and they were all for it. I asked them to put together some activities and they said “oh we thought being on the planning team meant we didn't have to do anything” 10 points to 7th Rovers

Now, unless you're 7th Rovers, you're 10 points behind. How lazy can you be?

*Disclaimer; you must eat, drink water, be safe, and not wake me up.

August 3-6, 2018

Open to all Cubs, Scouts, Venturers & Rovers, and equivalent Girl Guide sections. Individuals may register on their own and will be grouped with other individuals in a composite camp site.

Camp Samac is easily accessible by public transportation and an easy 1 hour commute from Toronto's Union Station to the Durham College UOIT campus across the street from the campsite.

International guests Welcome!

We are already expecting delegations of Scouts from St. Petersburg, Russia, Denmark, and the UK.

Tell us when you are coming to Canada, we will help you plan your trip, make reservations, assist with transportation, and maybe even home hospitality. We can arrange longer stays at Camp Samac in cabins or tents and assist with extra gear you won't want to carry with you on a train or airplane. We can help with everything from grocery shopping to onsite activities and off site visits to tourist sites.

The nearest airport is Toronto Pearson International (YYZ) with daily flights from hundreds of destinations.

Camp site amenities

Summer camping at Lake Samac means, canoeing, archery, pellet shooting, access to an Olympic sized swimming pool, camping on well-maintained grounds, Scouts Canada camping store onsite, obstacle courses, hiking trails, and more. Camp sites have access to fresh municipal water and flush toilets. Sites have campfire rings and tenting under trees or in the open field.

Zoo Moot Saga

Episode 10: N.E.W.T.

November 2-4, 2018

Open to Rovers, Venturers, TREX and Rangers

Facebook Group Zoo Moot

What: Theme is Numberphiles Evolving Whitby's Timeline

When: November 2-4, 2018 (one week earlier)

Where: Kitchie Lodge & Lakeland Camping Area - Balsam, Scouts Canada Camp Samac, 275 Conlin Road East, Oshawa, Ontario.

Why: You will be dazzled by the prizes at closing, accumulated by participation in a wide range of theme activities and scavenger hunt. The pot luck Saturday dinner and following musical social at Council Hall are not to be missed for any better reason!

How Much: Pre-Register for $20.00 and pay a deposit online, or after Oct 25th for $25 at the gate. Dance only (no camping or dinner), $5 at the door.

NEW* Indoor bunks: reserve now $10.00 per person, space limited 80 people

The Event

What you can expect: This is a typical MOOT style event with a lot of free time for socializing, campfire, field activities, archery, scavenger hunt, group potluck dinner, Saturday night dance/rave, prizes for earning points.

Theme: Activities will be based around theme (but just for fun). Bring your best themed costume to join in on the fun. Watch for more detail and especially for updates on the Facebook group or event page.

Friday night: time to set up your camp, participate in some gathering activities and discover who is in camp. For Rovers, this is often the first time they have gotten together since their last camp as many Rover continue to be engaged in the Crew but may be away at school in the weeks in between. Opening is scheduled for about 10:00 pm but could be as late as midnight.

Saturday morning: Activities in the field (to gather points for your Company, Crew, TREX or Rangers), activities in the archery range in the basement of Council Hall and time to prepare your answers to the Scavenger Hunt.

Saturday afternoon: Different activities in the field (to gather points for your Company, Crew, TREX or Rangers), activities in the archery range in the basement of Council Hall and time to prepare your answers to the Scavenger Hunt.

Saturday Lamb BBQ and Pot Luck Dinner: prepare your favourite or most successful dinner dish to add to the feast at Council Hall. (Why lamb? Because the first Zoo Moot theme animal was Ewe. Why let it go to waste?) Pies, pies and more pies!

Saturday Night: Dance/Rave at Council Hall, bring your best dress. The adjacent room is a great place for sharing munchies, card games, networking, etc. when you aren't bopping to the beats.

Sunday: Gather for camp closing after breakfast and benefit from the amazing awards the committee have set up.

Survey taken by UK Scouts Reveals:

As Scouts, we already know that Scouting develops socially engaged young people – individuals who are curious, kind, welcoming, active, resilient and extraordinarily equipped with skills for life. Now, we have evidence to back it up.

A new research study has revealed, or rather – confirmed, that Scouting develops strong community engagement in young people, fostering a culture of curiosity and acceptance.

Commissioned by The Scout Association, the study gathered data from over 2,000 young people, both Scouts and non-Scouts, and was independently conducted by SocStats, an agency that specialises in measuring impact in social sector organisations.

The findings are an inspiring reminder of why we do what we do. As it turns out, Scouting really can change the world. By creating a culture of curiosity and acceptance in young people, Scouting strengthens communities and contributes to greater social cohesion.

Here are a few highlights from the report.

Community impact and inclusion

Compared to young people not in Scouting:

- Scouts are one-third more likely to take an active role in their communities
- Scouts are one-third more likely to help out in their local area, feel greater responsibility to their local community and volunteer to help others
- Scouts are 18% more likely to be curious about the world around them and 12% more likely to accept diversity in other people's backgrounds and beliefs

Physical and mental wellbeing

- Unsurprisingly, Scouts are 32% more likely to be physically active than young people who don't take part in Scouting
- Scouts are also 13% more likely to demonstrate mental resilience

Skills for life

The research highlighted how Scouting develops skills that are vital in the workplace. Compared to their non-Scouting counterparts, Scouts are:

- 17% more likely to demonstrate leadership skills
- 11% more likely to be better problem solvers
- 19% more likely to show emotional intelligence
- 17% more likely to be able to work well in teams

What do our young people have to say

These numbers give additional weight to the positive feedback we hear from young people every day. 13-year-old Charlotte Miles said: 'since I became a Scout I have been so much more involved in my local area.

'Volunteering as a Scout, helping out and getting to know people in the community. I have learnt so much and met people from so many different backgrounds, making some really great friends.

'I think every young person should think about getting involved as you get so many new skills and it is really good fun.'

Chief Scout Bear Grylls calls for more people to get involved

Chief Scout Bear Grylls said: 'this research proves that Scouting helps young people to develop a sense of community spirit, curiosity about the world and tolerance of others, as well as a host of practical skills for life.

'But most importantly, it's super fun! That's why, with so many people looking for new hobbies for the year ahead, I'm urging young people and adults alike to consider signing up for the Scouts.

'We are especially in need of more adult volunteers so that we can accommodate the high numbers of young people that want to join the Scouts, but are unable to because there are not enough volunteers in their area.'

Let's put these results to good use

We hope this research will encourage more young people as well as more volunteers to get involved in 2018.

Scouting has so much to offer, not only to individuals looking to develop life-changing skills, build friendships and get access to life-changing opportunities, but also to local communities and society as a whole.

From August 5th to 14th, you will go from crossing glaciers to eating fondue, staying in a mountain hut to relaxing next to a beautiful alpine lake, there is truly something for everyone. Save the Date now!

Who can participate?

All Rovers, Rangers and Leaders, 18-26 years old, belonging to a National Scout Organization recognized by WOSM or WAGGGS. You can participate individually or together with a friend, however we keep the right to limit the amount of participants per country if too many people from one country apply. This is to ensure the cultural diversity of the event. You should be able to communicate in English as English is the working language of the Centre.
